IF YOU WERE BUSY.

If you were busy being kind, Before you knew it you would find You'd soon forget to think it was true That someone was unkind to you.

If you were busy being glad, And cheering people who are sad, Although your heart might ache a bit, You'd soon forget to notice it.

If you were busy being good, And doing just the thing you could, You'd not have time to blame some man.

Who's doing just the best he can.

If you were busy being true To what you know you ought to do, You'd be so busy you'd forget The blunders of the folks you've met.

If you were busy being right, You'd find yourself too busy quite To criticize your neighbor long, Because he's busy being wrong.

—Nellie Bushnell West.

May the New Year prove a happy and peaceful one to you dear reader.

May each one of us mortals realize that real happiness comes only from a clean, Christian life. That oftentimes the heavy hand of sorrow and trouble that we endure, is for our good and betterment in ways that we do not understand. Let us all be up and doing our part in the great drama of life that we may be entitled to a home in that beautiful gloryland where loved ones whose memory we still cherish, and the humble man who gave his life that we might live, awaits to greet us.

A large sized crap game was raided by these alert officials Sunday on the Somerville branch, and believe us, there was some scattering, although no evidence that would convict any of the crowd was secured owing to the fact that the bunch had a "lookout" who warned them of the officers approach.

The election of town officials will take place here at an early date. It is well that the taxpayer should know the splendid condition in every way that this municipality is in at the present time under the able guidance of Mayor Boswell, who has served two terms as the head of the town government. However it is doubtful about him allowing his name to be used for reelection to any office which news is regretted by the many friends of this efficient official and clever citizen.

NOTICE.

TO THE GOOD PEOPLE OF SOMERVILLE, FAYETTE COUNTY, TENN.

In making your New Year's resolutions for the year 1915, I will be very glad if you will consider that the Co-operative Stores Company of your hustling little city will appreciate very much indeed a part of your trade, if you do not see your way clear to give us all your orders for groceries. Come in, my friends, and let's get acquainted. I have met a good many of you and I appreciate very highly what patronage you have given me, and I trust that you will continue to let us serve you all next year. And I will assure you that we will strive harder next year to at all times keep everything that you will likely need or that you can purchase in a first class grocery store, such as you will find in towns larger than yours.

Now, Friends, let's all pull together for the upbuilding of the store that brought low prices to Somerville, as well as all pull together to bring more business to our town next year. We can do it by everybody saying a good word for our town and county and its people. Always be optimistic. Do not allow yourselves to become any other way.

I realize, I expect, the financial condition of our country a great deal more than you have any idea. I have some very heavy obligations to meet just like a great many other people. Still, I am going to do the very best that I can, and that's all in the world any of us can do.

We have today one of the greatest countries in the world. Of course on account of the low price of the South's greatest product, we all have no doubt failed to do what we anticipated doing. Still we are going to get along all right next year.

I realize that it is a good idea to prepare for war in time of peace, and at the same time do not cross the bridge before you get to it; and if it's washed away, then float very slowly across, for there has been and there will always be some way that you can figure out.

I met a gentleman a few days ago who said to me, "Mr. Davis, I have not got any money to purchase my little children a thing for Christmas, and I never was caught in this shape before." I said to him, "Do not let that worry you one minute, my friend, for your dear children will get what you want."

Thinking that there might have been others who may have felt this way is what prompted me to write and say such as I do in this way.

Thanking you for past favors, and wishing you all a most happy New Year, we remain,

Yours very truly,

Co-Operative Stores Co.
H. S. DAVIS, Manager.

was a visitor to Memphis last week.

Fortunately the type of man who is a knocker, makes little or no impression upon intelligent people, for at a glance the intelligent man immediately concludes that he is a loafer and a good-for-nothing.

Mrs. R. G. Tucker of Pine Street was a visitor to Memphis last week.

The opportunities for diversified farming are wonderfully greater here in Fayette County than in most sections. Mrs. W. T. Dickerson, a bride of only ten days, died here last Saturday evening. She was a former resident of Paducah, Kentucky, and her remains was carried there for burial on last Sunday. She leaves several children by a former marriage. The sympathy of friends is with Mr. W. T. Dickerson in his bereavement.

Mrs. C. H. Jones of Second Street was a visitor to Memphis this week.

More Potash Coming.

American crops and soils are still as hungry for Potash as before the outbreak of the European War, which curtailed the Potash shipments.

Some of the Fertilizer Companies are trying to induce farmers to buy the onesided low Potash or no Potash fertilizers of a generation ago. This means a fertilizer that is profitable to the manufacturer, but not the best for the farmer. When the Syndicate in 1910 started the direct sales of Potash to dealers and farmers at reasonable prices, Potash sales increased 65 per cent in one year, a clear proof that farmers know that Potash Pays. They know that Potash gives good yields, good quality and resistance to plant diseases.

Many of the Fertilizer Manufacturers are willing to meet the farmers, wishes and sell him what he thinks he needs. These manufacturers are now willing to furnish us much Potash as they can secure. They offer goods with 5 per cent and even in some cases 10 per cent Potash, if the farmers insist on it.

Shipping conditions are improving, more Potash is coming forward although the costs of production and transportation are higher. The higher price of fertilizers is not due wholly to the slightly higher cost of Potash. Much of the Potash that will be used in next spring's fertilizer had reached America before the war started.

There is no substitute for Potash. We can no more return to the fertilizer of twenty years ago than we can return to the inefficient farm implements or unprofitable livestock of that period. H. A. HUSTON. adv 11

Moorman-Morris Marriage.

At the Presbyterian church in this city on December 29 was performed one of the most interesting and beautiful weddings of the year. The parties married were Dr. John Morris and Miss Jeannette Moorman, both prominent and popular young people of this city.

The church was beautifully decorated with ferns, palms and evergreen. In the presence of a large gathering of the friends and relatives, Rev. C. A. Harper of the Presbyterian church performed the marriage ceremony uniting these two happy young lives, using the beautiful ring service. The wedding march was played by Mrs. C. W. Crawford, with the soft strains of "Cavalleria Rusticana" being played during the ceremony. While the large gathering of friends were awaiting the arrival of the bridal party, Mrs. T. A. Moorman, sister of the bride, sang "Just a Little Love" and "At the Gate of the Palace of Dreams."

The bride wore a tailored suit of Chiffon broadcloth trimmed with seal with a toque of black velvet and carried a bouquet of white roses and ferns. She was given away by her brother, Mr. Francis B. Moorman, and was attended by Mrs. Harry Mathis as matron of honor, who wore a tailored suit of broadcloth trimmed with fur, and carried a bouquet of roses and ferns.

The groom was attended by his brother, Mr. George Morris, of Nashville, as best man, and W. E. Franklin of LaGrange and Tom Rothrock of Jackson acted as ushers.

No more popular young couple has been married here than are these. The bride is a daughter of Capt. H. C. Moorman, and has had from childhood that sweet, lovable disposition that draws friends very near to her. Dr. Morris is a young physician of splendid standing in the community, a lucrative practice, and one of the county's most promising young professional men. Both were reared in this county and have their friends to wish them the best of every thing that comes to this life. The display of wedding gifts was large and attractive.

Following the ceremony the bride and groom left over the N. C. & St. L. Ry. for a short bridal trip and are now at home to their friends in this city.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Morris and Misses Murray and Elizabeth Morris of Laconia, Mr. and Mrs. George Morris and son, Master Allan, of Nashville, Thomas Rothrock, of Jackson, Will Franklin, of LaGrange, Mr. J. P. Mathews, of Oakland, Herron Rothrock, of Port Gibson, Miss.

Dempsey Cartwright.

Another, and almost the last old colored Landmark was removed from our community, when Dempsey Cartwright died December 23rd, 1914. Thus one by one the links, that bind the younger generation, to the before the war negroes are broken, and they will all soon be gone.

Dempsey was probably the oldest man in Fayette county, he claimed to be at least 110 years old. He said when the stars fell in 1838, he was a full grown man. An Octogenarian living in Macon, says when he was a little boy, Dempsey was a man with a family, Dempsey lived most of his long and eventful life in the vicinity of Macon, where he enjoyed the respect of his neighbors, both white and colored.

Should Read the Following Letter--Mrs. Slack's Story About Her Child's Recovery Is Entirely Reliable.

Palmyra, Pa.—"Three years ago my little girl had black measles which left her with a chronic cough and so awfully thin you could count all her ribs, and she coughed so much she had no appetite."

"Nothing we gave her seemed to help her at all until one day Mrs. Neibert told me how much good Vinol had done her little girl, so I decided to try it for my little one, and it has done her so much good she is hungry all the time, her cough is gone, she is stouter and more healthy in color and this is the first winter she has been able to play out in the snow, coasting and snow-balling without any ill effects."—Mrs. ALFRED SLACK, Palmyra, Pa.

We know Vinol will build up your little ones and make them healthy, strong and robust, therefore we ask parents of every frail and sickly child in this vicinity to try a bottle of Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic without oil.

Resolutions of Respect.

Whereas the Supreme Ruler of the universe in his wisdom has seen fit to remove from our midst Brother F. A. Mayo, one of the oldest and most beloved members of Bedford Forrest Lodge No. 52, Therefore, Be It Resolved that while we bow in humble submission to His will, we realize that Bedford Forrest Lodge No. 52 has lost one of its most worthy members, one whose daily life among us has been a splendid example of the brotherly feeling and conduct that we should bear, one toward another. Resolved further that we commend his life and example to the members of this lodge and to the five sons whom he leaves behind as eminently worthy of emulation by them.

Be it further resolved that a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of this lodge, a copy be furnished to the bereaved family and a copy sent to The Fayette Falcon for publication therein.

Respectfully submitted by your committee.

THE SECRET OF SUCCESS

Genuine Merit Required to Win the People's Confidence.

Have you ever stopped to reason why it is that so many products that are extensively advertised, all at once drop out of sight and are soon forgotten? The reason is plain--the article did not fulfil the promises of the manufacturer. This applies more particularly to a medicine. A medicinal preparation that has real curative value almost sells itself, as like an endless chain system, the remedy is recommended by those who have been benefited, to those who are in need of it.

A prominent druggist says "Take for example Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a preparation I have sold for many years and never hesitate to recommend, for in almost every case it shows excellent results, as many of my customers testify. No other kidney remedy that I know of has so large a sale."

According to sworn statements and verified testimony of thousands who have used the preparation, the success of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is due to the fact that it fulfils almost every wish in overcoming kidney, liver and bladder diseases, corrects urinary troubles and neutralizes the uric acid which causes rheumatism.

You may receive a sample bottle of Swamp-Root by Parcel Post. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. and enclose ten cents; also mention the Somerville Weekly Fayette Falcon.
